RE: CONECO ENERGY LLC FORMED BY MERGER

Coneco Geothermal Systems, an affiliate of Coneco Engineers & Scientists Inc. of Bridgewater, MA and Acer Energy LLC of Hanover, MA recently merged to form Coneco Energy LLC, a renewable energy systems engineering company.

Acer Energy was formed in 2007 by Mike McGonigle, an Electrical Engineer with 25 years experience, in response to the growing demand for alternative and renewable energy systems. Acer Energy specializes in medium to large-scale photovoltaic (PV) systems, hybrid energy systems and control, measurement and verification instrumentation.

Coneco Geothermal Systems was formed in 2006 by Rick Lincoln, President of Coneco Engineers & Scientists. Coneco Geothermal Systems is a leading provider of geothermal HVAC design-build services in the Northeast and has implemented a broad range of geothermal HVAC system designs throughout the region. Coneco Geothermal Systems' clients include federal and local governments, multi-unit real estate developers and residential homeowners.

Coneco Engineers & Scientists Inc. was founded in 1989 providing innovative and cost effective design solutions for residential, commercial / industrial and municipal clients. They provide civil, environmental and other engineering services as well as ecological services, permitting, and surveying. They have offices in Auburn, Bridgewater & Lowell, MA and Glastonbury, CT and employ over 50 professionals.

According to Mike McGonigle, Principal, Coneco Energy LLC, "The synergy and collective systems design-build experience of the two companies creates a powerful design and construction team to serve the growing demand for highly efficient systems using alternative and renewable energy sources."

Coneco Energy LLC provides engineering design, design-build, consulting and construction management services for Geothermal, Solar & Hybrid Energy Systems. Their work also includes Off-Grid Power Systems, System Controls, Energy Metering and Measurement & Verification. Coneco Energy is also a registered dealer for DC Power Systems, Solar Depot and WaterFurnace International.

Coneco Energy is located at 4 First St., Bridgewater MA 02324. For more information please call 508-443-5011 or visit www.ConecoEnergy.com or www.coneco.com
